

Adaptive Gardening Training

3rd May 2018

10:00 to 15:30 (Registration and coffee from 9.45am)

Hospitalfield House, Arbroath, DD11 2NH

with Fiona Thackeray & Jenny Simpson

The day offers insights into adapting gardens, gardening techniques and activities to enable people with a variety of abilities to take part in and enjoy gardening.

This training session is for anyone wishing to understand the concept of adapting gardening and how to apply it to your own therapeutic gardening practice. All are welcome at this session, covering:

- Consultation
- Garden layout and design considerations
- Activities, methods and adaptive techniques

Practical demonstrations and activities, informal setting, opportunities to ask questions, and information to take away.

Cost (includes lunch and refreshments)

£40 for paying members of Trellis

£50 for projects individuals in the Trellis network

£70 others

Book by 18th April 2018 Booking Form online at www.trellisscotland.org.uk

TRAVEL INFORMATION

Travel by Car

There is car parking at the venue and street parking available nearby.

Public Transport Information on public transport available from Traveline Scotland

<https://www.travelinescotland.com/>

